Recommended additional SIL

Use the link below to read and understand all of the different theories that you could be questioned on in the final exams. Some you have already studied and others you will study in year 13. From this, produce your own revision booklet/revision cards on each theory including:

- What the theory shows
- When it can be used
- The pro's and con's of using each theory (additional research will be required to complete this bullet point)
